

BlazeVOX 2k9

Fall 2009

Kirsten Jorgenson

“In Every Attentive Look on Nature We Already Theorize<sup>1</sup>”

what belongs to the eye : bright pistil some blossom I don't know the name
like trumpet vine
like tiger lilies on the branches some round horn flower out in the kudzu

I am / eyes in molasses light
mine is no thing at all
a snake rippling the water ripped innertube on the shore what's the difference?

---

<sup>1</sup> Johann Wolfgang von Goethe A Theory of Colours

I am Dazzled

Still leaves
here are bright green
beetles in the mimosa tree sparrows coming through chain link

our lawn
their wings
it's all
here.

cicadas
shudder
the air
open.

What Comes Through

As fall

a

late September

a

90% humidity

&

bird body

bright l(y)

(e)e

a(l)

(l)v

e(o)

(w)s falling

& l(r)

e

(a)a

v(i)

(n)e

s

fall(ing)

Heliotrope

under the branches
your skin
radiates
maple
leaves

light

the sidewalk

leaves
leaves
there
when you