

Tabitha Elliott

Chardonnay

Crisp, floral and light on the tongue

Sinking into my taste buds,

Dampening my lips with sweet and beautifully bitter notes.

Serenity in a cup

A glass of class and elegance.

The intricacies and poise of Chardonnay remind me of just how enthralling life is.

Renewed

*Ocean deep, Artsy, and sweet,
vivacious,*

running barefoot in the wind,

Feet digging into soft and cold soil,

Books and dirt,

Old woodsy oak trees,

Dark green pine, Seaside air... Crashing waves, sinking under, moving with the water, let it bring you afloat... Let it carry you and cleanse your soul, Broken and repaired inside, let the water fill the cracks,

A flower to be watered, A baby to be baptized, Begging him to heal you...

the tears you cried, filled a river.. So let the waves renew you...
