

Roger Craik

Brexit

The belltower tolls the quarters, not the hour.

The sun is reddening
behind the graveyard wall.

"The usual . . . English who are so hopeless abroad" (D. H. Lawrence)

Grown men dressed up as footballers dressed up
as little boys